SITUATION SUMMARY

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

A ridge of high pressure will maintain dry conditions and above normal temperatures through Tuesday. A weak disturbance will bring a slight change of thunderstorms this afternoon to inland areas. Temperatures will fall to near normal by mid to late this week.

San Francisco Weather:

Continued warm to hot temperatures inland today with some more noticeable cooling by Tuesday. Temperatures will be near normal from Wednesday and into next weekend as onshore flow returns with typical night and morning low clouds spreading into the bays and valleys.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY Sacramento Weather:

Hot weather will continue across the region today with more significant cooling expected to hold off until mid-week. Dry conditions along with periods of locally breezy north winds will result in critical fire danger. A slight chance of late day thunderstorms will be possible over the Coast Range today, then in the Sierra Nevada south of Lake Tahoe on Tuesday.

Hanford Weather:

High pressure will remain over the region today and then weaken slightly on Tuesday as a low pressure system aloft moves across central California. By Wednesday a large trough of low pressure will set up along the west coast with cooler temperatures persisting into the upcoming weekend.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

A ridge of high pressure over the region will slowly give way to a weak upper level low approaching from the west by Tuesday. This will bring another day of above normal temperatures today followed by a cooling trend for Tuesday and Wednesday. Temperatures will then remain near normal through next weekend as a broad trough of low pressure develops over the west coast.

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

High pressure to the south will maintain higher inland temperatures today with the marine layer a little shallower for coastal areas. For Tuesday into next weekend a weak trough of low pressure near the west coast will bring cooling to near seasonal levels. Areas of night and morning coastal low clouds and fog will extend into portions of the valleys. Onshore flow will bring gusty west winds to the mountains and deserts at times mainly late afternoon through late evening each day.

Southeast California Weather:

Hot and dry conditions are expected through much of the week. The hottest day will be today with temperatures remaining slightly above normal through the week. A slight chance of afternoon thunderstorms exists near the sierra through Wednesday.

Cal EOC Incident - 2014 Drought

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue without substantial rainfall, severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

On April 25, 2014 Governor Brown released an Executive Order on Friday enabling several urgent actions to be taken as the drought persists into the state's traditional dry season.

 As this rainy season comes to an end, it is highly unlikely that precipitation totals will increase significantly over the coming months. This winter's below average rain and snowfall worsens conditions in this third straight dry year.

- The Taskforce continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- The final manual snowpack survey of the season was conducted on Thursday (May 1) and showed California snowpack at 18% of normal. A more recent update using automated devices shows snowpack at 0% of normal as of June 3.
- DWR has announced that water essential for health and safety will be delivered through the state water project. The current State Water Project Allocation is 5%.
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.

Mission:

We protect lives and property, build capabilities, and support our communities for a resilient California.

We achieve our mission by serving the public through effective collaboration in preparing for, protecting against, responding to, recovering from, and mitigating the impacts of all hazards and threats.
